Mayor's Message

July marked another busy month with Council locking down it's budget and framing the plan for the year ahead.

There's an extraordinary amount of work to be done and I have every confidence in our teams delivering these projects. As they progress through these works, I ask the community to assist with patience and understanding of any inconvenience that may arise. The end goal, after all, is a better Shire for us all.

An open-ended review of the Dingo Barrier Fence began at a meeting held with landowners and the State Government review panel at the Council Chambers on 25 July. This review aims to form an understanding of the fences efficacy and produce a recommendation to the State Government as to the commercial viability of the fence.

With overwhelming consensus of the room in support of the fence, Council will be strongly advocating for its continuance. I encourage all to take the time to contribute to this conversation and assist where you can by lobbying for your own position on this matter.

Between 7 and 14 July we celebrated NAIDOC Week across the Shire. This reflective and respectful series of events was an absolute credit to the collaboration of the people who pulled it together. I was fortunate enough to make it to the opening ceremony at Quilpie State College and witness the first of the week-long activities. Unfortunately, rain had ruined the master plan of being by the river, but we'll always take the rain.

Next stop for me was Eromanga State School, where I witnessed the kids play games and participate in aboriginal language and craft workshops. The kids were amazing, taking in all the cultural sharing they could get and really reflecting on its message.

Last stop was the closing ceremony at St Finbarr's where Principal Marsh had us worshipping the north, south, east and west, followed by a tree-planting with Doug Collins and myself. We finished with a lunch of emu patties, a first for me and they were a deadly choice.

Overall my favourite moment was serving the cake to the Elders and just catching up with them and sharing a laugh. A huge thanks goes out to all involved in making the week such a success.

I also attended the annual interschool sports carnival opening at the Quilpie State College and witnessed the first time the sun has ever shone at this event, as well some very energetic performances from the athletes.

Youth numbers look good for the Shire, with the majority being under eight.

Congratulations to Sommerfield, the overall winners, but "Go McManus always"!

Stay safe and be prosperous all.

Mayor Ben Hall

Mayor's message

As the first budget of the new term of Council, the 2024-25 Budget has focused on the delivery of strategic infrastructure projects while balancing cost increases to our day to day operations. While the average residential rate payer in the township of Quilpie will see an increase of $3.26 per week for General Rates and Utility Charges, Council is still heavily reliant on State and Federal Grants with 60% of Council's operational revenue generated through grants.

Maintaining good quality infrastructure has been a focus of Council for many years and this philosophy has not changed with significant investments in road, water and sewerage infrastructure programmed for the 2024-25 and proceeding budgets.

Council has received additional Capital Grant funding starting in 2024-25 through the Works 4 Queensland and Roads 2 Recovery programs. These increases will help fund upgrades to floodways ($2.124M), Adavale water main replacement ($260K), Bob Young memorial park upgrade ($450k) and more.

Council's investment in liveability continues with the finalisation of the houses and town houses ($5.18M), along with refurbishing the Eromanga pool ($600k) and constructing a new walking path from Quilpie town to Baldy Top ($300k).

The Councillors and I would like to thank Council officers in working diligently to deliver this budget and implement the projects throughout our Shire.

NAIDOC Week in Quilpie Shire

Quilpie Shire Council, together with the NAIDOC Committee with the support the National Indigenous Australian's Agency and RESQ was able to deliver an exciting and engaging week of NAIDOC celebrations in Quilpie Shire beginning on Monday 8 July 2024.

This year's NAIDOC Week theme, Keep the Fire Burning! Blak, Loud & Proud celebrated the unyielding spirit of our community and we invited the everyone to participate and stand in solidarity.

The fire represents the enduring strength and vitality of Indigenous cultures, passed down through generations. It is a symbol of connection to the land, to each other, and to the rich tapestry of traditions that defines Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples.

During this week we honoured this flame, we kindled the sparks of pride and unity and ignited a renewed commitment to acknowledging, preserving and sharing the cultural heritage from many families that enrich the Quilpie community, our State and our Nation.

The Quilpie NAIDOC Week program was jam packed with traditional activities that embraced and promoted indigenous culture through art, craft, painting, cooking, games, storytelling and language.

The official opening of NAIDOC Week was hosted by Quilpie State College. Mayor, Cr Ben Hall officially welcomed everyone and was ably assisted by community Elders and students cutting the NAIDOC cake.

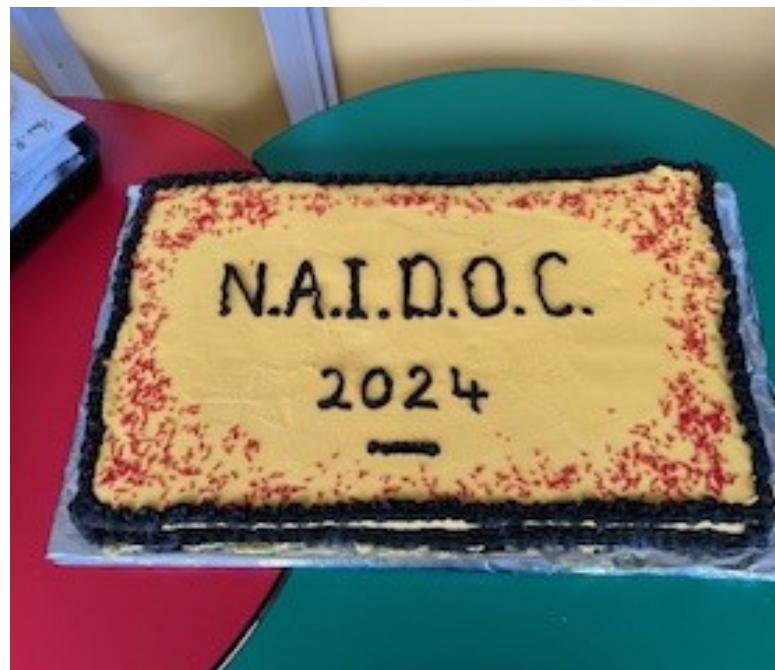

Quilpie State College provided an amazing rotation of traditional group activities and johnny cakes, kangaroo, emu and crocodile were stars of the lunch menu!

Mulga Mates Centre celebrated NAIDOC Week with a special guest - Mardigan man, Wayne Martin.

Wayne provided an inclusive welcome to country and smoking ceremony, engaging the children in interactive education, showcasing various aboriginal tools and instruments.

This was followed by a delicious NAIDOC Week Elders Lunch held at the Imperial Hotel to celebrate which was well attended.

Eromanga State School celebrated NAIDOC Week with Boonthamurra man, Mark Wallace, providing a traditional smoking ceremony on country followed by a rotation of traditional games, body painting, arts and crafts.

Under 8's Day was held at Quilpie Shire Hall with the theme, "Connecting to Culture" where the Air Stewards and Pilots (aka teachers and staff) took the costumed children on an exciting journey through different countries and culture.

St Finbarr's School hosted the closing ceremony on Friday 12 July. Welcome to Country was performed by Wayne Martin and Douglas Collins and a moving Mindful Reflection and Acknowledgement, focusing on connection to country and each other was led by Principal, Kara Marsh.

During the day, ochre painting and grinding stones (assisted by Aunty Ruby), building gunyahs and traditional games were part of the days program of activities. Mayor Ben Hall officially closed the NAIDOC Week celebrations.

These NAIDOC Week celebrations were a great success thanks to strong support of the Quilpie Shire Council, Quilpie NAIDOC Committee, NIAA, CWAATSICH, Deadly Choices, Cunnamulla Primary Health Care Centre, RESQ, Quilpie State College, Eromanga State School, St Finbarr's School and the community.

The Care Collective - SW Primary Care Pilot

Partnering with the local community to improve the health and wellbeing of those living with complex health conditions.

THE PROJECT

The Care Collective - South West Primary Care Pilot aims to improve how Queenslanders in the South West region access care by building on the strengths and fixing health service gaps in these communities.

Funded by the Commonwealth Department of Health and Aged Care, the project is focused on health service providers working together to develop models of care that meet the needs of the community.

WHAT IS IMPORTANT FOR THE PROJECT TO BE SUCCESSFUL?

- Understanding the local area's services, programs and providers.
- Taking a holistic approach to complex and chronic health conditions.
- Clearly communicating with health and community services to ensure timely and appropriate referrals.

SUPPORTING THE FAR SOUTH WEST QUEENSLAND REGION

When talking with health providers, consumers and other stakeholders, it was identified that many people living in far south western Queensland find it hard to access primary health care services and their care is not always coordinated. This project aims to work on these issues in the following centres:

- Charleville
- Quilpie
- Cunnamulla
- Thargomindah and surrounding areas.

The project will be evaluated in the middle of 2025 to see if it can be rolled out across other parts of Queensland.

BENEFITS FOR THE COMMUNITY

- Person-centred and culturally safe health care for consumers, closer to home where possible.
- Improved communication between health care providers and services.
- Better coordinated access to health, community and social support services for the community.
- Stronger health literacy in the community.
- Better management of health conditions with personal care plans and supports in place.
- Fewer avoidable hospitalisations and trips to the emergency department.

GROWING OUR TEAM

Local knowledge and the right skills are important to support the health and well-being of Queenslanders.

Our project team members work and live in the areas they support, which means we can grow and change our workforce based on local needs. These team members work with local councils, primary care providers and First Nations health organisations.

The dedicated Care Collective workforce may be different across areas depending on the local needs. There are three different options that each area picked from, with some areas choosing multiple:

COMMUNITY SERVICE COORDINATOR

These Coordinators provide administrative project support for all primary and community health care service providers to make sure health and wellbeing services in each area are coordinated.

CLINICAL CARE COORDINATOR

These qualified health professionals provide clinical care coordination to consumers in the primary care setting, in partnership with General Practitioners, community and acute health care providers.
